

Advocate

Wednesday, December 16, 2015

18 Edible, Drinkable Gift Ideas

By Diane Anderson-Minshall

[...]

A Block of Salt

Pair that Nordic recipe with rivsalt (Swedish for grated salt) and consider it a new method to salting food and a gastronomic experience in one. You take this gorgeous natural Himalayan salt rock and grate it onto a dish with the accompanying Japanese stainless steel grater, impressing all your friends who are still buying the traditional stuff. $30, Kikkerland.com

Or If You Want to Get Really Fancy...

For that gourmand who has it all, a simple gift set from Hamptons Salt Company is sure to please. From raw cooking salts to flavor-infused salts both decadent (Black Truffle) and distinctive (Ghost Pepper), Hamptons has something you'll love among its 33 flavors. The best gift options: The Connoisseur, which includes four jars of luxe salts — Fleur de Sel, Black Truffle, Porcini, and Smoked Chardonnay Oak — in a lovely black gift box. Or the more affordable but no less tasty Flavor Seeker set, which includes Black Truffle, Garlic, Ghost Pepper, Smoked Hickory, and Rosemary infused salts. My fave. $39 and up, HamptonsSalt.com

[...]