10 Perfect Hostess Gifts

By Sharon Feiereisen

You've gotten the Paperless Post (or snail mail invite for the old-fashioned types). You're invited to eat, drink and be merry with your friend, neighbor, cousin, aunt, boss...yikes, that's a lot of partying but you're not complaining. Since you're going to be toasting to the holiday season with someone else's champagne flute and booze, you know you can't show up empty handed. You have enough lists to make and check twice right now, so I took care of making this one for you by rounding up a list of special hostess gifts guaranteed to leave a positive mark no matter what your budget. Warning: you'll want these for yourself as well. Repeat after me: It's for the hostess. It's for the hostess.

Hampton Salt Company

For the hostess with an affinity for the artisanal Hampton Salt Company will all but certainly be a new favorite. Adorably packaged and packed with flavor the brand makes a variety of all natural, unrefined sea salts to add flavor to just about any savory dish. None of the flavored or smoked salts have unhealthy additives and they're sold individually ($9.99 and up) or in gift sets ($39.99).
